A 'Tail' With A Happy Ending – Thanks To Ruggles & Stopitall!

Molly, a Bichon Frise owned by Janice Chapple of Devon, was suffering severely from extreme itching, chewing her paws and savaging her tail to try and gain relief. In despair, Janice had talked to her vet about tail amputation or even the possibility of having Molly put to sleep as she was in so much distress. She was unable to leave Molly alone without a muzzle and had disturbed sleep for over a year.

But after trying a Ruggle-it Pet Starter Pack containing a pioneering soap-free shampoo plus a 100% natural blend of vegetable oils which in tandem, cleanse and soothe and are hated by most flesh-eating critters, inside just three weeks, all Molly's scratching and distress had stopped!

Janice also tried Ruggle-it on her other dog Jessy, a Springer Spaniel, who was itching more than normal but who reacted violently if given traditional flea treatments, particularly those with a tick prevention component. But once again, by following the simple instructions and the 'hold-your-hand' planner, Ruggle-it did the trick and Janice now has two happy, itch-free dogs and Molly still has a tail to wag!

Said a delighted Janice: "I am so very glad I discovered Ruggles & Stopitall Ltd and I am so grateful for their advice. I love the fact that all the products are gentle and don't contain any harsh chemicals. Molly really is 100% BETTER

Said Karen Ruggles, of Ruggles & Stopitall Ltd: "Sadly, many pets are finding that SPOT-ON PRODUCTS struggle with '21st century biting critters' such as some fleas, harvest mites and especially the invisible Millennium Mite. However, Mother Nature's Ruggle-it doesn't seem phased and of course it's gentle to the body. Also diet (especially rice) can increase itching and paw-chewing so check out your ingredient labels. Sometimes it isn't one single problem that causes a symptom but rather a build-up of issues, so try to look at the body as a whole."
