Subject: protexin for foaming alpaca

Hi Karen,

Have posted off an order today for more Protexin as it sorted my young alpaca who was foaming at the mouth - we'd tried treating her for teeth problems with no result until a big breeder I spoke to said it is common as they wean. Apparently, as they take more pelleted feed they get a gut imbalance, which causes more fluid to be produced and when they sit and chew the cud this foams.

Kind regards

Teresa
