Dear Karen,

I bought Ruggle-it a couple of months ago and wanted to let you know how successful your product has been at deterring flies from my extremely sensitive skinned thoroughbred horse, so much so, that to date he has not had to wear his fly rug at all.

I have found that alternate day application is adequate, I use disposable wipes to apply the diluted mix to his ear and eye regions which I then hang in my feed room to deter flies in there. [KR, SIA – brilliant idea!] I haven't needed to spray his stable as the smell of the oil on his coat keeps the stable a fly free zone when he stands in each afternoon. Rubbed into his tail, it has stopped him from his customary rubbing on the stable wall and leaving a bald patch on his dock, leaving him with a much better look for the show ring!

Also my dog, who sustained a bite to her flank two years ago and which she constantly worried and chewed at despite all types of deterrents and therefore remained [REDACTED] [open], [REDACTED] [supported the body's natural healing] within five days of applying the oil daily! This amazed me.

I therefore tried it on my 11 year old son's [REDACTED] [itchy skin] and it reduced the itch almost immediately, only problem for him is the rather strong odour!

I can't praise your product enough, it certainly works and I have recommended it to several of my friends to try on their itchy animals.

Yours sincerely, S [REDACTED] H [REDACTED].

Many thanks to Mrs SH, Cheshire for taking the time to write this feedback.
