Alpaca's Relief

CORNWALL-based Dianne Summers was distraught when her three beloved Alpacas became riddled with mites.

One, a rescue case, was so badly affected by the mites that his skin was red raw and began to bleed. Dianne, a member of the British Alpaca Society, was desperate to [REDACTED]

Looking after her small herd and liveries, she is constantly driven to better the lives of all Alpacas, and after trying many different products nothing seemed to help.

During a five month, worldwide search for the perfect product, Dianne came across Stop-it-All in a farming magazine, and although a little sceptical at first, decided she had nothing to lose in giving it a go.

The results were astounding after only seven days of use. The rescued Alpaca is now recovering well, the redness has gone and his fleece is starting to grow back and he is much happier in himself.

Dianne also used Stop-it-All on another Alpaca who is at the yard as a livery. He had had a bald nose for more than five years [REDACTED]

Now Dianne no longer worries when it comes to mites and baldness. She really believes it is her miracle formula for her Alpacas.

Said Dianne: "It really is brilliant, the oil is pure genius and works wonders on my herd. When the herd are sheared again I will be diluting the oil and medicated shampoo to use as a fly deterrent to stop the midges biting."

Stop-it-All oil and shampoo come in 250ml to 5 litre sizes. Retail prices start from £12.50 for a 250ml bottle.

Special Offer. Mention this magazine and choose any 250ml for £10.50 or £21.00 (+P&P) for a Starter Park of oil and shampoo.
