NEWS ROUND-UP

The harvest mite season (June to November approximately) always causes great itchiness to animals (and humans) but 2014 has been very bad, especially for cats. Many traditional spot-on products have struggled or simply not worked.

A Ruggle-it Pack - a 100% natural vegetable oil salve and a pioneering soap-free cleanser-shampoo - offer a natural alternative to many itching issues, e.g. mites, fleas, lice, ticks, midges and even mystery skin issues. With harsh chemicals and tea tree being absorbed by the skin which can irritate more, rest assured Ruggle-it contains none of them!

Said Mrs GB from the Isle of Wight: "My very nervous cat attracted a bad case of harvest mites this year. Conventional mite products had no effect and so in desperation and with scepticism, I bought some Ruggle-it. After only several applications, we noticed a real improvement and he is now a much happier and generally calm chap and well on the mend."
