Subject: Semi salve testimonial

Dear Karen,

My very nervous cat attracted a bad case of harvest mites this year. Conventional [REDACTED] [mite products] had no effect. In desperation and with a certain degree of scepticism, I bought a pot of the Ruggle-it salve (knowing that there was little chance of my using the whole system on him). **

After only several applications we noticed a real improvement and he is now a much happier and generally calm chap and well on the mend. Thank you Karen for your excellent next day service too!

GB, Isle of Wight

[R&SL comment: for nervous cats, using the salve is totally fine but it can only be put in limited places so results may be limited too as critters often find the gaps...but thankfully not with Mrs GB's dear lad!

Another option that closes the gaps is the "no-rinse-required" sponge-on of a blend of our special shampoo and salve which gives 'extra strength' protection when only limited applications will be tolerated! It costs just pennies, is quick to apply, covers large areas & requires no rinse-out.

Cost-Saver. For no extra cost Ruggle-it sponge-on also tells fleas, other mites, lice, ticks & most biting critters to all "Bog Off" simultaneously. Ruggle-it - one product for umpteenth critters & guaranteed free of Tea Tree & harsh chemicals. Clever Mother Nature.]

Many thanks to Mrs GB for taking the time to write this feedback.
